

MEDIA ALERT

For Immediate Release:

ALABAMA WOMEN LEADING GOVERNMENT HOSTS 2ND ANNUAL CONFERENCE

PELHAM, AL...The Alabama State Chapter of Women Leading Government hosts its 2nd Annual Leadership Conference Tuesday, February 25, 2020, at the Pelham Civic Complex & Ice Arena.

The conference begins with networking and registration at 8:15 am followed by the program at 9:00 am featuring litigation attorney, author, child advocate and lecturer, Liz Huntley, as the key note speaker.

Interim Director of Government & Economic Development Institute in University Outreach, Lakami Baker, Dr. Eliza Belle, "The Village Psychologist", City of Pelham City Manager, Gretchen DiFante and Kim Kiel, Director of Athletics, Pelham City Schools will provide breakout sessions throughout the conference. The conference breakout sessions include topics on servant leadership, having difficult conversations, work/life balance and using our strengths as women to lead.

Tickets are available on Eventbrite and are available to all non-elected females employed in local or state and are members of Women Leading Government.

ALWLG Membership is free and available to join when you register for the conference. ALWLG Membership is restricted to non-elected females employed in local or state government or a supporting industry (i.e. Chamber of Commerce, Economic Development, etc.).

The Alabama chapter WGL's mission statement reads, "To encourage women to pursue careers in local and state government and thru networking and education, help prepare women for success in the unique local government communities across our state."

Women Leading Government is a sister organization to the International City and County Management Association (ICMA), the most respected organization in the governmental management industry. Alabama is the 12th state to form a statewide organization of WLG. Arizona, California, Colorado, Delaware, Florida, Massachusetts, Missouri, Ohio, South Carolina, Utah and Texas (Texas has four arranged by districts) all have chapters.

Alabama WLG is a partner organization to The Alabama City/County Management Association (ACCMA) which also served as a conference sponsor.